1. REMINDER TO COMPLETE A FORM 318 FOR DAMAGE OCCURRING TO CITY PROPERTY

When property damage occurs to City owned property, it is imperative to complete a Form 318, Report of Conditions Affecting Other Departments, detailing the extent of the damage and referencing the completion of any corresponding accident report, or other offense/incident report when appropriate. Route the completed Form 318 to the proper department.

Completing a Form 318 is especially important for damage resulting from automobile accidents. It serves to assist the City in recouping costs of replacing damaged items such as: guard rails, hand rails, fences, sign posts, parking meters, attenuators, curbs, etc.

Personnel should review Procedure 12.225, Vehicular Crash Reporting, and Procedure 12.435, Reporting Conditions Affecting Other Departments - Form 318, for additional guidance.

2. LETTER FROM THE FAMILY OF DARYL E. GORDON

Attached to these Staff Notes is a public statement of appreciation from the family of fallen Cincinnati Fire Apparatus Operator Daryl E. Gordon. Additionally, the Cincinnati Fire Department and Fire Chief Richard Braun would like to recognize the efforts of all of the officers and supervisors from the Cincinnati Police Department.

3. MOBILE DATA COMPUTER (MDC) SYSTEM MAINTENANCE PLANNED

CLEAR staff will be conducting system maintenance impacting the Mobile Data Computers (MDC) on Sunday, April 19, 2015, between 0600 and 1100 hours. The MDC system computer servers will be down intermittently and will reboot several times during the system maintenance process. During each reboot of the servers, all MDC functions (Query, CAD, Talk, Mail) will lose connectivity and be temporarily unavailable. MDC users will be notified approximately 15 minutes prior to each reboot.

It is recommended that all changes in status and traffic stops be made by officers over the radio until notification is received that the system is back in full operation. All users should remain logged on to the MDC during the process. The MDCs will return to full functionality at the end of the process without the need to reboot.

4. TRAINING BULLETIN # 2015-03, PROPERLY DOCUMENTING PROBABLE CAUSE FOR ARREST

Attached to these Staff Notes is Training Bulletin # 2015-03, Properly Documenting Probable Cause for Arrest, which has been created to educate officers about what information is required when completing complaints, affidavits and arrest reports to properly establish probable cause for arrest.

Supervisors should complete a training bulletin check off list to ensure all personnel have reviewed the bulletin. Completed check off lists shall be maintained in the district/section/units of assignment.

Training Bulletin

PROPERLY DOCUMENTING PROBABLE CAUSE FOR ARREST

2015-03

April 2015

Purpose

Why issue this training bulletin?

To ensure all Department personnel are informed and educated on what is required to properly document probable cause for arrest when completing complaints, affidavits, warrants, and Form 527, Arrest Reports.

References

Cincinnati Police Department

- Procedure 12.555 – Arrest/Citation: Processing of Adult Misdemeanor and Felony Offenders

State v. Hoffman, 141 Ohio St.3d 428

Information

In November 2014, the Ohio State Supreme Court decided State v. Hoffman, a case which examines what determinations must be made to find that probable cause exists to arrest and sign warrants.

On November 11, 2011, in Toledo Municipal Court, a Toledo police detective filed three criminal complaints and requests for warrants to arrest, charging Brandon Hoffman with theft, criminal damaging, and “house stripping prohibited,” all first-degree misdemeanors. Each complaint cited the relevant statute, recited the statutory elements for the offense charged, and, in a brief narrative statement, identified the victim, the location of the offense, and the property taken or removed. Based on the statements in the complaint, the deputy clerk issued the warrants. Hoffman was notified by letter that he could avoid arrest by scheduling a court appearance before November 29.

After becoming a suspect in a homicide, Hoffman was arrested on the open warrants. At that time, evidence of the homicide was also seized. Hoffman contended officers lacked a valid warrant to arrest him. In a supplement to his motion to suppress, he clarified the arrest warrants were invalid because no probable cause determination was made by anyone before the warrants were issued and because the criminal complaints on which the warrants were based contained no information that would support a finding of probable cause.

A suppression hearing was held. The trial court found that the officer who had obtained the three misdemeanor arrest warrants failed to submit any information from which the deputy clerk could have found the existence of probable cause on the three misdemeanor charges.

The Sixth District Court of Appeals agreed with Hoffman that the “mere recitation of the statutory elements of the crime is not sufficient to support a finding that probable cause exists.” It concluded the misdemeanor arrest warrants were invalid due to the deputy clerk’s admission that they were issued without any probable-cause determination. The Supreme Court of Ohio also found the warrants were invalid. The Court stated a complaint or affidavit that merely concludes the person whose arrest is sought has committed a crime is not sufficient to support a finding that probable cause exists for an arrest warrant. Recital of some of the underlying circumstances in the affidavit is essential if the magistrate is to perform his detached function and not serve merely as a rubber stamp for the police.

Documenting Probable Cause

When an officer completes a complaint, an affidavit, or an arrest report, the officer must answer the question, “What makes you think that the defendant committed the offense charged?” Reciting the elements of the crime is not enough. The officer needs to explain in the complaint, affidavit, and arrest report the facts and circumstances so the judges and clerks reviewing the paperwork can make true probable cause determinations.

Examples

If a suspect is caught stealing from a local convenience store, the complaint, affidavit and arrest report should not read:

“On January 1, 2015, Mr. Smith walked into the convenience store located at 1234 Main Street and took $25.00 worth of merchandise without consent of the owner.” This statement lays out the elements of theft, but does not answer the questions as to why the officer believes Mr. Smith committed the theft offense.

Rather, the complaint, affidavit and arrest report should read:

“On January 1, 2015, Officer Jones responded to 1234 Main Street to investigate a theft offense. The store owner called police communications and reported that employees were holding a suspected shoplifter. When Officer Jones arrived, he reviewed video footage that captured the theft offense. The video shows Mr. Smith placing merchandise in his pockets and attempting to leave the store with said merchandise without paying for it. Mr. Smith was interviewed and admitted to placing the items in his pockets and attempting to leave the store without paying.”

Example two actually states why Officer Jones believes Mr. Smith committed the theft offense. The employees caught Mr. Smith attempting to leave the store with the merchandise, the offense was captured on video, and the suspect admitted to the crime. With those facts listed in the complaint, affidavit and arrest report, the judge or clerk reviewing the documentation can make the constitutionally-required finding that probable cause exists to validate the complaints, affidavits, and warrants.

Guidelines to Remember

When completing complaints, affidavits and arrest reports, list some of the evidence that establishes probable cause.

- If an eyewitness saw the crime, the affidavit, complaint, and arrest report should establish who witnessed the offense and what they saw.
- If video evidence is available, explain that video footage is available and what was depicted in the video.
- If the suspect made any statements regarding the crime that helps establish probable cause, be sure to list those as well.

An officer does not need to lay out their entire case. Only enough information to establish probable cause is required.

Chief Blackwell,

My name is Melron Kelly, Deputy Chief for the Columbia (SC) Police Department. I attended your presentation at the Noble Conference in Atlanta last week. I was very impressed with your approach to building police - community relations. In my city we face very similar issues as it relates to violent crimes committed by young black males and the lack of service (guardian) minded officers. I would like to replicate some of your ideas especially around service immersion. In my city, we are working to define specific goals in these areas and hope to see measurable success soon. Again, thank you for a great presentation and the opportunity to learn a very worthwhile approach to what may result in saving the lives of those who would otherwise fall victim to violence or negative peer pressure.

Sincerely,

Subject: Great experience with your District

I called the District last night and received this information from Officer Daniel Ray who was most helpful.

On Thursday, March 12, Officer Curtis Walker responded to my residence. A break in was attempted the night before. After he made his report, Detective Tracy Jones came to investigate the scene, take pictures and lift any prints.

Since Police Departments nationwide are always under fire, I just wanted to take the time to let you know that all 3 of the gentlemen I interacted with were most professional, courteous and helpful.

Being a 30 year resident of the Clifton Heights area, I really appreciate the work your officers do for the community.

My wife, my brother and my brother's girlfriend were at the Bengal's game on December 7th against the Steelers. We happened to unfortunately be sitting next to a man who was rude, threatening and hostile to us. He repeatedly made threatening statements to us throughout the game and even pushed my wife when he was exiting the stands towards the end of the game. This man almost got into an altercation with some other fans because they disapproved of his actions towards us throughout the game. This man's only recourse was to notify stadium security through the jerk line on us. We were pulled out of our seats by a member of the stadium security staff who I have to say was less than sympathetic. He threatened to kick us out because he said the man sitting next to us was a season ticket holder and he had complained on us. The man from the stadium's security completely blew us off since this other man was allegedly a season ticket holder. He didn't seem to care what we had to say and he made no attempt to hide that feeling. When I realized that the representative from stadium security could not be reasoned with, I asked to speak to someone from the Cincinnati Police Department. When I made this request he became more frustrated and stated that it would not be in our best interest if he had to get a Cincinnati police officer to come over. I told him I didn't care and demanded to speak to one of your officer's. Two officer's came over and listened intently to everything we had to say, had an impartial view on the situation and more importantly cared about our concern's. Something the stadium security personnel had no regard for. The officer's explained that there was not much they could do and that was understandable. However, they offered to go and talk to the man we were sitting next to. They did so and then came back to us and told us what he had said and basically said that was all they could do. I would just like to say that I know that there was nothing these officers could have done to make our experience a more enjoyable one, but they went out of their way to actually listen to our concerns and do whatever they could do to help. I wish I would have remembered their names but I can tell you they were working the club level near section 247 around the fourth quarter. These two officers showed the type of professionalism and compassion that define the men and women of the Cincinnati Police Department.
